

My Household Checklist

We all want to feel at home. As you compare and contrast living options for your loved ones, check for the essential elements needed to create a true home. You will find all of them at the Sam L. Cohen Households at The Cedars.

Y	N	Household Essentials
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are visitors welcomed at the door and invited inside, like in a private home?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are all resident rooms private rooms with en suite showers and baths?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Can residents personalize their private rooms and set their own thermostats?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are residents allowed to decide when they wish to wake and sleep?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Can residents decide how they wish to spend their days?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are spur-of-the-moment needs and requests accommodated?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Is food served from a kitchen that is open whenever residents wish to eat, with home-baked goods and favorite snacks always available?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are there cozy common areas open to all residents?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are furnishings inviting and homey (non-institutional)?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are the nursing stations and medical equipment out of sight, but always close at hand? Does the space look like a home rather than a medical facility?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Is the residence free from noisy medical intercoms, pagers, and alarms? (The Sam L. Cohen Households utilize cutting edge, silent call systems.)
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Is there a spa with whirlpools for relaxation and self-care?
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Are consistent caregivers assisting residents so that long-term, trusting, and meaningful relationships are formed?
